

DRUG & ALCOHOL ABUSE SCREENING INSTRUMENT
TOP TEN LIST OF SUBSTANCE ABUSE INDICATORS

Instructions: If more than one of the following applies to your client/applicant, there is a high likelihood that they are not job-ready, but require treatment intervention, preferably a residential program in another county.

1. Do the track marks up and down the client's arm look like they were installed by Amtrak or the First Armored Division?  Yes  No
2. Does the client/applicant consume twice as much beer in a week as the average GAB examiner consumes during lunch?  Yes  No
3. Is the client/applicant wearing two pair of sunglasses, while teething on a Shell® No-Pest Strip™?  Yes  No
4. Does the client/applicant persevere in obsessive behaviors, such as counting and recounting the number of glassine envelopes stuffed in his/her pants cuffs?  Yes  No
5. Does the client/applicant complain about snakes and bats obscuring his/her vision during the face-to-face interview? (Note: Rats and mice do not count.)  Yes  No
6. Does the client/applicant nod off repeatedly while attempting to recall his/her Social Security number?  Yes  No
7. Is the client/applicant uncharacteristically cheerful during the interview (e.g. does he/she refrain from referring to the examiner as a "white bitch", or fail to punctuate conversation frequently with the "f" word)?  Yes  No
8. Does the client/applicant lapse into a coma during the interview, requiring a visit from the Paramedics, with defibrillation and emergency transport to the hospital? (Check both boxes if you yourself lapsed into a coma during the interview process)  Yes  No
9. Has the client/applicant ever been arrested for public indecency during a blizzard?  Yes  No
10. Does the client/applicant express a keen interest in part-time work at a pharmacy, or - worse yet, want to become a DSS caseworker?  Yes  No

Note: If three or more of the above apply, but the client/applicant is still able to sit upright and alert, have them fill out a job application for security guard and refer them to WTI.
